emotional toll that surgery can take on patients and their families, and I approach each case with compassion and empathy.

I am confident that my dedication, skills, and experience make me a strong candidate for the Theatre Nurse position, and I would welcome the opportunity to contribute to your team. Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to the possibility of discussing how I can contribute to your organization.

Sincerely,

Daiva Kerpiene

I was excited to learn about the Theatre Nurse position at your company and would greatly appreciate your consideration for this role. After closely reviewing the requirements, I am confident that my qualifications and experience align well with the needs of your organization. Please find my enclosed CV for your review.

In my previous roles, I have gained extensive experience in evaluating patients upon their arrival at the hospital, quickly assessing their condition to provide the necessary care. My ability to remain calm and focused during emergencies allows me to respond effectively and prioritize patient care. I am adept at recognizing any deterioration in a patient's condition and can take appropriate action to ensure their safety and well-being.

A few of my key competencies include:

Monitoring patient care and treatment to ensure the highest standards and quality at all times.

Prioritizing patient care and effectively communicating with all levels of staff, including the multidisciplinary team, patients, and their families.

Preparing patients for surgery, including explaining procedures, running necessary tests, and ensuring the operating room and instruments are sterile and ready.

Additionally, I have received specialized training in Japanese therapeutic face lifting massage, known as Kobido. This ancient technique has not only deepened my understanding of patient care but also enhanced my ability to provide holistic care that promotes both physical and emotional well-being. This skill has proven valuable in helping patients feel more relaxed and supported, particularly before and after surgery.

My training and experience have equipped me to manage trauma cases and critically ill patients, ensuring they receive the care they need. I am meticulous in monitoring vital signs and overall patient condition, and I am quick to report any changes to the surgical team. I understand the emotional toll that surgery can take on patients and their families, and I approach each case with compassion and empathy.
