Over the past 16 years, I have cultivated a versatile foundation of skills. As an Account Teacher managing classroom curricula, mentoring students, and collaborating with colleagues. This role honed my attention to detail, problem-solving skills, and ability to thrive in structured environments—qualities directly transferable to roles in retail management, logistics coordination, or customer service.

(2005–2023),

In 2013, my transition to a Salesman role allowed me to refine my customer engagement and relationship-building expertise. I learned to assess client needs, drive sales targets, and maintain inventory systems, all of which align with the demands of retail or supermarket operations. More recently, my work as a Kitchen Helper has deepened my understanding of teamwork, efficiency, and hygiene standards in fast-paced hospitality settings. This experience underscores my ability to adapt quickly, follow protocols, and deliver consistent results under pressure—a valuable asset for roles in EU hospitality or logistics teams.

What defines me as a candidate is my multitasking agility and cross-sector resilience. Whether teaching, selling, or supporting kitchen operations, I prioritize precision, customer satisfaction, and proactive collaboration. I am fluent in English and Nepali, with a basic understanding of additional languages, and I am committed to learning new skills (including EU-specific regulations or language basics) to integrate seamlessly into your workplace.

I am drawn to opportunities in the European Union to broaden my horizons while contributing to teams that value diversity, innovation, and service excellence. I would welcome the chance to discuss how my background aligns with your needs and how I can support your organization's goals.
